

BONALDO

Kadou, Kadou light

Designer: Ryosuke Fukusada

Kadou is an elegant coat stand that recalls the shapes of a traditional Japanese vase of flowers: its name in fact means "the art of flowers". The frame is in plastic material, available in four colours, while for the branches, made in painted metal, it is possible to choose from among numerous colours. The coat stand is also proposed in the version with light (Kadou light), with white base: thanks to the light source located within it, it can at the same time also serve as a lamp. Simple in its materials, but pleasantly sophisticated in its design and shape, Kadou is a design product with a striking aesthetic connotation, able to furnish in style, as well as telling a strongly evocative story.
